A look almost of consternation came into the countenances of the Tammany braves. A thrill like an electric shock seemed to pass through the hall. What could the speaker mean?

As if to point the significance of the remark, the returned chief, Richard Croker, who left the city so suddenly and secretly when the Lexow Committee was in session, had just entered the wigwam.

If the fledgling Congressman had said it is better to be free than to be famed, or honored or learned, it would have been different. But "it is better to be free than to be rich?" If the side and back "surface" hair has been waves it is brought loosely up into the knot, its ends tucked out of sight. After all this is done, and not till then, a long fine comb is lightly run through the waves of hair.

Boiled Water for the Skin. If one cannot have hot and cold water in one's room, one may at least, by tak-ing a little trouble, have only boiled water in the wash-pitcher. It need not be warm, but it should once have bee so. Only those who have tried it kne what a difference there is in its soft ness, and how good it is for the skin.

Tomato Cream Sauce. Cook half a can of tomatoes with sprig of thyme, one stalk of celery, slice of onion and a bit of bay leaf twenty minutes. Add half a saltage ful of soda and strain. Make a cupta of flour and a cupful of cream colliand just before serving com the tomato. Season with salt and enne to taste. The soda will make sauce less liable to separate. This will be found very good to serve other things beside lobster cut-and differs somewhat from the usual mato sauce.

The Feet and Hands
